THE BEACHES

Restaurants, children activities, practical information, essential viewpoints, or small stories...Discover the six beaches situated along the inDeauville territory in the following pages. Each of them has its own, sometimes surprising, atmosphere: familiar, adventurous, sportive, scientific, Californian...make your own choice !

WATER UNDER PERMANENT SUPERVISION

The quality of water is a real challenge on seaside territories. The Deauville Coast is subjected to careful care. In 2009, the "Communauté de Communes Cœur Côte Fleurie" was rewarded with a certification label for the good management of bathing water. It has implemented its own management system complementing the supervision of the "Agence Régionale de la Santé" (ARS).

The principle: controls are based on the microbiological quality of water. From June to September, 20 samples per beach are taken and analysed by the ARS. Moreover, the Communauté de Communes Cœur Côte Fleurie daily supervises the quality of bathing water. Holidaymakers can find all information about the quality of bathing water at the aid posts or on www.coeurcote fleurie.org.

ON THE SEASIDE

In Villerville

The narrow and coloured roads of Villerville stretch down to the sea and two beaches: the Plage des Graves to the west and the Plage des Bains. They are only accessible at low tide, but you can walk - when the tide is high - on the dyke dominating it along the Roches Noires steep cliffs. The Roches Noires cliffs, a sensitive natural area, are 60 m high and owe their name to the blocks of limestone rock found on the beach.

The access from the centre of Villerville is hard by car. We recommend reaching the beach on foot from rue de la Cabine (East Beach) or chemin des Fondrières (Graves beach).

Animals are not allowed from July 1st to August 31st on the beach and on the Boardwalk from 9 am to 6 pm. They are only allowed on the Graves beach (cliff side only). Horses are allowed at low tide only: access from chemin des Fondrières, Parc des Graves.

The must does

Parc des Graves

Over the Roches Noires cliffs, you'll find 800 m of pedestrian paths with benches, picnic tables, and children's games. This protected natural area welcomes astonishing wild plants, vestiges of the ornamental gardens of past times.

Roches Noires cliffs

The Roches Noires cliffs, 4 km long and 60 m high, linking Villerville to Trouville-sur-Mer, alternate gentle slopes and steep walls. Also called the "Roches noires" (Black rocks), these cliffs owe their name to the huge dark blocks scattered on the beach, originating from the chalky layers of the cliffs covered by seaweeds and lichens. The Roches noires cliffs are an excellent natural cut of the geological formations of the Upper Jurassic era (160 years ago) of the Pays d'Auge. Following the bottom of the cliffs, later formations may be observed: the most ancient whitish and greyish chalky formations are found in Trouville-sur-mer; more recent marls in Villerville. These formations show traces of biological activity. This 135-ha area is partially listed as «Espace Naturel Sensible» by the Calvados department. This area is accessible walking on the seaside at low tide (please check the tide times or you may get stuck at the bottom of the cliffs by the rising tide).

The bunkers

On the beach of Cricqueboeuf, you'll find vestiges of the Atlantic Wall.

The crossing of "A Monkey in Winter" movie
When you go back up from the beach, stop in front of the Cabaret Normand, where "A Monkey in Winter" by Henri Verneuil, starring Jean Gabin and Jean-Paul Belmondo, was shot in 1962.

At the rhythm of tides

The tidal coefficient tells us the amplitude between high tide and low tide. The coefficients range from 20 for « dead » tides to 120 for exceptional tides.

The average tides have a coefficient of about 70. The highest tides come when the Moon, the Earth and the Sun are aligned on the same axis. They take place at Autumn and Spring equinoxes.

Checking tide times

The times found in the tide brochure correspond to when the tide reaches its highest or lowest point. There's also a coefficient showing the power and amplitude of this tide.

Staying under the beach umbrella

Installed from 1875 on the beach of Deauville, the beach umbrellas lost their stripes of the 1930s to acquire 5 homogeneous colours and be knotted around the pole. Maybe one of the most photographed in the world, the Deauville beach umbrella is not sold anywhere. It is designed every year in the ateliers of the city, repairing and dressing them up to rent them. A municipality service at low price.

Indicative price:

from € 14 per day, a beach assistant (they are 14 in summer) will help you open the beach umbrella and sit comfortably.

The must does

The Boardwalk

It is one of the most legendary places of Deauville. The Boardwalk, built in 1923, stretches along the foreshore establishment and 450 Art deco cabins. It is 643 m long and is made of Azobe wood. Fences are marked with the names of filmmakers and actors receiving a tribute during the American Film Festival. And it has been lasting since 1975

A small anecdote !!

The Boardwalk is used to host fashion parades! From the 1920s, girls have been parading along the Bar de la Mer and the Pompeian Baths. In 1930, Miss France Yvette Labrousse and European Misses launched this habit at the Pompeian Baths!

6 Point de Vue: : built in the 1930s by the Deauville Yacht Club, it turned out to be too far from the municipal port. After serving several purposes, it is now an exhibition place. It currently hosts the Micro-Folie event (see page 11).

A small anecdote...]

After the First World War, women got more independent and in 1919 the method of physical education of the Commandant Hébert, originally elaborated by sailors, has great success among women along the beach of Tourgéville! Not fewer than three beaches to explore: the Lais de Mer Beach, at the border with Tourgéville; the Garenne Beach and the Ammonites beach. The Garenne Beach, including a pedestrian walk and a children's club, is the most dynamic in the summer season. The bigger and wilder Ammonites beach stretches along the Yves-Saint-Laurent beach. It bears the name of the fashion designer that, in 1983, bought the Château Gabriel where the great publisher Gallimard was living.

The beach is accessible from the Lais de Mer Road and its perpendicular roads (avenue Saint-Michel, avenue Maréchal Foch, avenue Victor Caillau).

You can park in Rue des Lais de Mer, boulevard de Bénerville, rue Pierre Roucher or even Avenue du Maréchal Foch. Most parking places are for free.

In Villers sur-Mer

The beach of Villers-sur-Mer is at the centre of the world... It's the first French city to be crossed by the Greenwich Meridian! The seaside resort reminds the Belle Epoque when picturesque villas were found along the beach. Particularity of the beach: the 4.5 km long and 100 m high Vaches Noires cliffs dating back to the Jurassic and Cretaceous eras. If you are not fond of history, the beach also hosts several summer events, including the famous Festival Sable Show. Sports tournaments are organized all summer long! Every summer, towering masts overlooked by objects like small boats are placed on the beach to help children take their bearings.

Sailing initiation

If you want to learn the language of the sea, a few words are enough to get used to the wind that dominates the largest playground in the world: 360,700,000 km². Have a try and enjoy unique places with one out of three InDeauville centres: the Cercle Nautique of Villers-sur-Mer, the Blonville Yacht Club and the Deauville Yacht Club. Their learning offer is very tempting and suitable to any age and needs, ranging from initiation tours to advanced session for experts. Have a try on a light boat at the Cercle Nautique of Villers-sur-Mer, at the Blonville Yacht Club or on a cabin boat at the sailing school of the Deauville Yacht Club.

Initiation courses

To familiarize with the sea world at an early age

To make children discover the sea world, the CNV offers an intensive course based on sailing on a collective boat and beach activities: gathering seafood by hand, discovering fauna, manufacturing kites...Activities may be reported for bad weather. Children from 6 to 8 are supervised by a qualified instructor.

Five half-days - morning or afternoon (from 9:45 am to 11:45 am and from 2:15 pm to 4:15 pm) in July and August.

Initiation tours

To see and test boats

The CNV invites you to embark on a catamaran with your family, friends or colleagues under the supervision of an instructor. In small groups of 5 people, you can experience sailing and discover the unique landscape punctuated by the Vaches Noires cliffs. A nice 2-hour tour.

At the Deauville Yacht Club, you can also enjoy a 2-hour tour, but on a J80 this time. This initiation tour helps you understand sailing and then move a step further. You'll be supervised by an instructor and sail in the Seine Estuary.

Classic intensive courses

To learn the basics in a week

Weekly intensive courses are great to learn the basics: how to rig a boat, embark from the beach, manage your balance, follow the wind, join other boats, stop, steer.

In the morning or in the afternoon during summer, Easter or October school holidays at the CNV of Villers-sur-Mer (from the age of 8).

In the morning or in the afternoon in July and August at the Blonville Yacht club. Sailing on Topaz 12 for children from 10 to 13. Sailing on Topaz 14 or Topaz 16 for people over 13.

3-, 4- or 5-day intensive courses of 4 hours per day are organized at the Deauville Yacht Club on J80 boats during school holidays (from the age of 14).

Weekly courses

Progress at your own pace

The objective of this course is a personalized progress: you can sail on a boat chosen according to your age and learn from the group.

Every Saturday afternoon from April to June and from September to November (2 pm-5 pm) at the CNV of Villers-sur-Mer from the age of 12.

3- to 4-hour training sessions are organized at the Deauville Yacht Club every week.

Sport sailing courses

To challenge yourself

Are you already a sailor? Do you want to improve your performance? The CNV of Villers-sur-Mer organizes weekly courses to help you rapidly improve your performance, mainly in terms of regatta techniques. You can also participate to department or regional competitions like Maël and Victor, 2nd ranked in their category at a regional level.

Every Saturday morning from 9:30 am to 12:30 pm from April to June and from September to November.

Sailing and motor yacht coaching

Instructions for use

At the Deauville Yacht Club, an instructor helps you handle your boat or a boat made available by the club. Program: manoeuvres in port, manoeuvres at sea, sailing course, weather forecast interpretation, handling, rigging and safety measures.

3-, 4- or 6-hr lessons at high tide, 9-hr lessons at low tide.

Team building meetings

To boost team spirit and develop cohesion

The sailing values - cohesion, team spirit, communication, versatility, pursuit of high performance, stress management and anticipation - are consistent with the company values. The Deauville Yacht Club organizes one-design boat regatta sessions. Up to 100/125 people (corresponding to 20/25 boats) can be welcomed.

Destinations

Cercle Nautique of Villers-sur-Mer (CNV) and Blonville Yacht Club (BYC)

The Cercle Nautique, created in 1962 by a group of sailing lovers, has preserved its principle: sailing all together! The sailing school of Blonville-sur-Mer, only open in summer, offers intensive courses and a subscription formula allowing its members to sail all year round with their equipment (dinghy, catamarans, windsurfing, paddle, kite surf...).

Le Deauville Yacht Club (DYC)

Louis Breguet, naval architect, pioneer of aviation and one of the founders of Air France, created this Club in 1928 (with the support of the Société des Régates of Le Havre and the Cercle de Voile of Paris). The DYC, currently one of the greatest clubs in Normandy -highest number of licence holders-, is renowned in France and abroad for sea tours. It has a sailing school accessible to everybody and organizes several regattas.

The sailing school of the Deauville Yacht Club, certified Ecole Française de Voile and Club Compétition, is open all year round and is suitable for any levels: recreational or leisure sailing, sport sailing. The students of André Maurois high school and those attending Grandes Ecoles (Dauphine, Sorbonne, Supélec, Sorbonne, Normale Sup...) are trained here to participate to great student regattas like Voiles du Havre, CCEDHEC, Spi-Dauphine. The sailing school is specialized on training students for the Match Racing.

Both if you are training for a regatta or if you want to familiarize with boats, you can learn sailing on cabin cruisers, on a J80 or a Grand Surprise.

Renting a boat for holidays

Jump on a Dragon

To challenge yourself

The Dragon boat and the Deauville yacht Club have something in common, their year of birth: 1928. This famous boat designed by Norwegian Johan Anker -architect, boat manufacturer and regatta lover- results from several projects to create medium-sized keelboats for two or three crew mates for racing and leisure boating. This boat has evolved since then, but has preserved the same shape. About thirty Dragon boats gather every year in Deauville to participate to a high-level championship. And throughout the year, this elegant boat is available for renting at the Deauville Yacht Club

Rent it for a day or book an instructor for training, leisure or regattas at the Deauville Yacht Club.

Anything is possible

Vous avez acquis le niveau 3 de la Fédération Française de Voile, vous pourrez louer un bateau :

At the sailing school of the Deauville Yacht Club: J80 or Grand Surprise.

At the Cercle nautique of Villers-sur-Mer: renting of Dart 16 or Topaz 14 catamarans.

At the Blonville Yacht Club: catamaran renting

Kayak tours

Kayaking is another option: a stable and quiet boat inspiring sea contemplation. Clubs do not only propose renting, but also courses and individual lessons to learn how to paddle. At the Concept sport Emotion, a kayak school located on the beach of Trouville-sur-Mer, you can rent a boat or opt for a sailing initiation lesson and enjoy a breath-taking tour. A qualified instructor assists you for 2.5 hours. An only prerequisite: be able to swim. Equipment provided. From April to November.

"Roches Noires cliffs" hiking tour: take your time along the trail and absorb the stunning beauty of the sea, leading most nobles to build here their villas in the last century. It's an internationally renowned site for oystercatchers' overwintering. Like other species of waders (curlews, sandpipers, redshanks...), they come here to eat molluscs, bivalves and worms when the sea goes back. At low tide, you can hear birds singing.

"Vaches Noires cliffs" hiking tour: The Vaches Noires cliffs consist of clay layers covered with chalk and limestone at the top (height of 110 m). Erosion was mainly due to the mass movement of mud and rain dropping from ravines to the sea. These cliffs owe their name to the huge dark blocks of chalk and limestone reaching the beach. These cliffs are unique for their geological and archaeological richness and for the fossils of the Jurassic and Cretaceous period that may be found after tides. You can see them from the sea, but not access to them for safety reasons. Collecting fossils is permitted only on the beach at low tide.

Touques Hiking

This coastal river that arises from the boundary with Pays d'Ouche, Pays d'Auge, Perche and the countryside of Alençon, close to Champ-Haut (Orne), flows into the English channel. Its former name, Algia, is still used in the Pays d'Auge. You'll have the chance to explore the twists and turns of the Touques on different paths.

Walking in the sea or on the sand

Longe-côte (or aquatic walking) is a fitness walking in which you walk partially immersed in the sea (between waist and chest) wearing a suit. If it is carried out properly, it is an excellent activity for muscle strengthening, breath and resistance. A friendly atmosphere is the real essence of this group activity.

The dynamic Cercle des Nageurs of Deauville organizes every week two sessions of longe-côte, on Monday and Saturday morning from 11:30 am to 12:30 pm.
Wear a proper pair of wading boots – suits available for renting

If you like aquatic walking, you may also like walking on the sand.

The BungyPump association also launched in Deauville Nordic walking and BungyPump of Sweden, a dynamic walking with poles. Energy expenditure is 77% higher than walking without poles. Walking itineraries cover a distance of 5 km (10 km for Nordic walking) and include breaks dedicated to exercises that reinforce abdominal muscles, thighs and arms

MEETINGS - MEETINGS

BungyPump is scheduled every Monday and Friday from 9:30 am to 10:45 am. Departure from the Point de Vue (on the seafront next to the Swimming Pool).

Nordic walking on Wednesday from 9:30 am to 11:30 am.

BungyPump and Nordic walking on Saturday from 9:30 am to 11:30 am. Every summer, at the beginning of July, a long event day on Nordic walking is organized by "Les Normandiques" association on the beaches of Villers-sur-mer, Bénerville-sur-mer, Blonville-sur-mer, Tourgéville and Deauville.

Gathering fish by hand

When the sea retreats, the uncovered area is known as foreshore. It's an area where a diversified fauna and flora develop. Fish is also found in this precious and species-rich pond. Anyway, some rules must be complied to preserve this richness and keep enjoying this family activity.

To keep in mind

Check the quality of the water, the rules about gathering seafood by hand (min. size, quantity, periods, authorized tools and permanent or temporary bans) in the website: <https://www.pecheapied-calvados.com/reglementation-coteffeurie>. Check the dangers of the fishing area: talk with local fishermen or ask for more information at our Tourist Information Offices or associations.

Tide times and coefficients: <http://maree.info/23>
Check the weather forecast as it is recommended not to fish under a storm or in foggy conditions. It is recommended to bring a compass and/or your mobile phone (under a waterproof cover).

Take a measuring tool with you to check the result of your fishing. Try to fish just the quantities needed for your own consumption.

Hidden species of the sandy foreshore

Beaches seem lifeless, but much shellfish live under the sand. Each species is buried at a different depth under the sand (1 to 30 cm) and in a specific area. These species are not easily caught. You should train your view to detect the signs of their presence under the sand. For example, if you tap on the sand, you may see a water jet coming out or "two holes" of varying size corresponding to the siphons of razor clams. Forewarned is forearmed. It's essential to fish in a sustainable way, without vainly moving sand (deterioration of the habitat) and keep a reasonable number of samples with proper size. In our territory, there are two fish gathering areas: Villerville, then from Deauville to Villers-sur-Mer. Every area has its own species. Fish gathering is forbidden all year round in Villerville. But you can fish the famous common shrimps.

THE MOST SUITABLE TOOLS

You're not required to buy any tools to collect the seafood found in our territory. Your hands are enough (it's the most recommended method) to collect razor shells (with salt) or burrowing animals like cockles, banded wedge shells. If you prefer using some tools, bring forks or rakes for cockles, banded wedge shells, tellines, razor shells. You may need a hand net or a landing net to fish common shrimps.

COMMON SHRIMPS

You may find them all over the territory: in Villerville, Deauville and Villers-sur-mer. They live in the finely grained sandy seabeds under shallow waters. Common shrimp fishing makes part of the story of seaside populations. It was mainly done by women and old people to earn some extra income or get an additional food intake. Two hours before the low tide, cool temperatures, a dry climate and a sunny day: these are the perfect conditions to find these small animals. You may need a hand net or a landing net, a sieve to measure the right quantity and a good amount of bravery and dedication.

LUGWORMS AND OTHER SEA WORMS

You may find them all over the territory of Villerville and from Deauville to Villers-sur-Mer. They mostly live buried in the sand. You may need them for angling. These animals are very useful as they contribute to ventilating and "cleaning" the sand.

COCKLES

You may find them from Deauville to Villers-sur Mer. They live in the sand under shallow waters and in sandy-muddy sediments. Minimum size for fishing cockles is set at 2,7 cm. Elaborate several recipes with this wonderful seafood, accompanied by pasta and a good farm cream...Before eating them, remember to let them disgorge in salty water (35 g/L) or in sea water (it's even better!). Then rinse them thoroughly and cook them. Enjoy!

BANDED WEDGE SHELLS OR TELLINES

You may find them from Deauville to Villers-sur-Mer. They live in shallow water. Minimum size for fishing them is set at 2.5 cm. It's a delicacy that you can eat raw, with a persillade sauce or with pasta accompanied by fresh cream.

RAZOR SHELLS

You may also find them from Deauville to Villers-sur-Mer. They live in fine sand under deep waters. When their foot rapidly retracts, water comes out from their siphons. Its presence is revealed by two small holes in the sand. You can catch them by putting some salt on these holes. Be fast enough and you'll be able to catch them without digging. Taste them cooked on a barbecue with a sauce, a persillade and be proud of you!

Galloping on the sand

Every morning and often in the evening on InDeauville beaches, horses take advantage of the benefits of sea water and relax after training for a race or a competition. It's a highly beneficial thalassotherapy for their wellness.

The jockeys ride through a signposted path from the racecourse to the beach. A code of conduct establishes the rules of access to the beach. You can observe this unforgettable show remaining at a distance. The nearby riding centres also propose walking experiences on the beach. Try and enjoy this unforgettable experience.

"When summer comes, I don't recommend Deauville to late-sleepers and lazy people. As mornings are dedicated to horses (...). Horses come from everywhere and cross at the walk the sleeping town to reach, excited as children, the long and silent beach. (...) From neighbouring clubs – situated in Tourgéville, Villerville or Le Brevedent – come some ordinary riders like you and me, for whom galloping on wet sand and a splashing in the sea are proofs of pure freedom." »

Contemplating the sea

Fauteuils en Seine: a breath-taking walk!

«Fauteuils en Seine» is an artistic tourist circuit.

The idea is simple: placing some deckchairs in front of the sea or on the seaside to invite people to contemplate the landscape. Through this path, you can discover unknown perspectives and roam along the coast of Villerville in Villers-sur-Mer. The Communauté de Communes Cœur Côte Fleurie – creator of the circuit – has asked a group of artists to decorate, dress, and paint a series of deckchairs. Stencil, painting, collage, photography, sculpture: they have let their imagination run wild to tell a history, their relationship with water, the coast and the beaches. Walk along this astonishing circuit!

Le nom de baptême François Monique vient de François, le nom du parrain du bateau François Kermarrec le premier matelot à bord, et de Monique la nièce de Hervé Salün qui est le premier propriétaire du grément.

Just a few minutes

From Deauville to Trouville-sur-Mer

Going from Trouville to Deauville and the other way round is easy. For € 1.20, sail on board the Trait d'Union, a small boat linking the two towns when the tide is high. At low tide, take the footbridge for € 0.50.

Departure every 5 minutes from Quai Albert 1er in Trouville-sur-Mer.

On weekends and school holidays; every day from March to September.

A small anecdote...

The Trouville-Deauville ferry has been used since 1889. It was created by the Casino de Trouville to let people cross the canal. It was sold about 100 years ago. Manu, the current captain, has been working on the Trait d'Union for 35 years. He started to lead the helm as seasonal apprentice sailor when he was 14, before taking the certificate of captain of the merchant navy and becoming captain of the ferry 25 years ago.

Mooring at the ports

Ideally situated on the English Channel, the two ports of Deauville are today an essential step for people coming from the Great Britain, the North Sea or the Anglo-Norman islands. Deauville has a great welcoming capacity, hosting 1,250 moorings distributed over 2 ports. Situated in the Seine Bay, Port Deauville is one of the first private leisure ports. It was built in the 1970s at the end of the Boardwalk. Its elder brother, the Municipal Port, is the historical port situated at the heart of the city. One of the ponds bears the name of the founder of the city, Morny. Is there too much choice? Deauville has always been a nautical city. Great sailing events have forged its reputation of home port for sailors coming from all over the world.

Municipal Port

Protected by winter storms, the municipal port is situated in the heart of the city, 300 m away from the Place Morny, in front of the railway station. It is composed of two ponds: Bassin Morny and Bassin des Yachts. Accessible without entering or exiting a lock basin for 11 hours per day, recreational boaters are very close to shops, restaurants and leisure areas, but also at the heart of the new Presqu'île district with sunny river edges and squares. The Deauville Yacht Club and the sailing school are situated along the pond. The urban development works of this area will continue in 2018 to build new port facilities. On each side of the bridge connecting the ponds, two 28-m lookout points - considered as "sea gates" that overlook the Estuary - will be built. These towers are horizontally striped to remind the lighthouse that was located here when Deauville was founded. The towers are juxtaposed to other buildings that host the Deauville yacht club and the sea-port services.

Young talent!

As artistic residencies are offered to young photographers and musicians, the City of Deauville has also decided several years ago to sponsor a young skipper: Eric Delamare. When he was 20, this young Norman sailor used to sail with his family, member of the Deauville Yacht Club. Using the land yacht since he was 7 (he has won for three times the Normandy Championship), he participated to the 420 competition, and started sailing when he was 12. At the age of 15, he started to sail alone in the Seine Bay. Very attached to his first club - the Deauville Yacht Club - he bears the colours of Deauville and of Normandy during high-level competitions such as the Solitaire Urgo Le Figaro. His new Figaro Bénétiau 3 boat was inaugurated in Deauville on February 23, 2019

Port-Deauville

At the beginning of the 1970s, a second private port, called Port-Deauville, was built in Deauville. Stretching over a surface of more than 10 ha and protected by a breakwater dyke, made of a 770-m-long block of granite, this new port has a fundamental advantage. On the Norman Coast, where tides impose their time to sailors, it is accessible 16 hours per day.

The swimming pool of Deauville, a daring project

The Deauville swimming pool was one of the first projects made by architect Roger Taillibert in France. This achievement was the first of a long series of sports structures, including the «Parc des Princes» stadium in Paris (1967-1972) and the Olympic Complex of Montreal (1972-1976). His bold project was far from the Norman style, which was very popular at the time on the «Côte Fleurie». He chose to install thin, long-reach sails, which had been tested at the beginning of the 1960s and of which he became a specialist. The seawater swimming pool was inaugurated in July 1966. Threatened with imminent closure in 1977 for its operating costs, it has been managed by the municipality since 1980 and completely renovated in 2006.

A striped jersey

In 1913, in her first shop of Deauville, Gabrielle Chanel decided to introduce the sailors' striped jersey into the prêt-à-porter world. It was a great success! It is now the symbol of the seaside holidays. Choose the classic striped T-shirt or Jersey, dress or bikini. Those produced by Armor Lux have Deauville marked on.

Les glaces de la Princesse

Princesse Sophie was founded on the Boardwalk several decades ago. It bears the name of the Princess Sophie Troubetskoi, of Russian origin, married with the Morny duke in 1857. Renowned for its elegance and spirituality, the princess came to Deauville for the first time in 1864, one year before the death of his husband, the duke of Morny. Walking on the Boardwalk, she would have loved to stop there to taste take-away ice creams, sweets and drinks.

We love these coloured institutions!

Do not miss the Pompon ice creams! The family history of Pompon ice creams started in June 2019 on Deauville beaches, where Ortiz family, coming from northern Spain, first arrived.

Four brothers (Joseph, Manuel, Fernando and Benito) and a sister (Maria) were provided with ice cream cars by the Spanish Diego.

The Ortiz started to produce ice cream - Pompon ice creams - and became very popular.

The Ortiz from Normandy joined the Miko company, founded by another member of the Ortiz family in 1951. Luis. Luis had emigrated too and started to sell ice creams in eastern France.

In 1946, the daughter of Manuel, Jeannine, and the son of Luis, André, got married, formally binding the families.
