Maximin Hellio:
a cuisine made of sense
and history

Maximin Hellio, who has been cooking from childhood, followed the footsteps of his father, starred chef in Brittany at the La Voile d'Or hotel restaurant. After his studies, he left home to work with the greatest personalities in French cuisine, including Frédéric Anton and the Raimbault brothers, and then he decided to open his own restaurant in Deauville. He gained his first Michelin Guide star in 2016.

Today, Maximin and his wife Sophie receive their guests in a contemporary sober setting, in the vicinity of Place Morny and the market.

On the menu, Maximin Hellio enhances the taste of the many local products selected with passion. Their innovative and essential gastronomic cuisine changes every week depending on what they get from local producers or from their own vegetable garden.

Surprising dishes, a journey between pastures and sea sprays, may be shared or taken home all year round.

Main flavours from here and Asia in L'Essentiel

Charles Thuillant comes from Paris, Mi-Ra Kim from Korea. After their diploma, they met in the kitchens of the major Parisian restaurants: Ze Kitchen Galerie, then La Table and L'Atelier by Robuchon. They got married and Mi-Ra accepted Charles' proposition to open a restaurant in Normandy. Their gastronomic cultures combine to lead to an unusual cuisine travelling through Asian flavours and local products. Using locally sourced ingredients to prepare refined dishes led them to obtain their first Michelin Guide star. Romanesco broccoli goes along with satay sauce and spices in this simple and naturally lit restaurant where you can admire the kitchen while being comfortably seated. L'Essentiel offers an Asian street-food menu to take away like bao buns filled with marinated and confit pork belly, chirashi sushi, fish dishes and desserts that change with the market. We recommend the concept store next to the restaurant where you can find their universe, their favourite gourmet products, the creators' they love...

A new chef in Le 1912

A wind from the south blows on the kitchens of Cures Marines of Trouville: James Chauchat-Rozier, who took over from Johan Thyriot, comes from a 4-star hotel of Cannes. During his career, he has worked with famous starred chefs like Yannick Allenno (Cheval Blanc, Courchevel), David Bisetto (Casadelmar, Porto-Vecchio - 2 Michelin stars) and Philippe Jego (Les Pêcheurs, Cap d'Antibes). His challenge: add a Mediterranean touch to the best local products... He says that he was "born in olive oil", but from reading the many press articles on his cuisine, we understand that he creates fine gastronomic dishes with determination and a taste for details.

La Belle Époque

In the naturally-lit hall of the restaurant of the famous Hôtel Barrière Le Normandy Deauville, crystal chandeliers and large mirrors set against a modern furniture made of wood and velvet. The cuisine of Chef Christophe Bezannier reveals contrasts too: cod is mixed with seaweed and lemon, and baba's rum is replaced by Calvados*. In addition to the Sunday brunch, the cuisine also includes a "nice, good and satisfying" menu based on the nutritional principles of the Chinese energy tradition.

Le Côté Royal

In the heart of the Barrière Le Royal Hotel, Le Côté Royal shows prestige, fineness and elegance. Majestic windows, long pleated curtains, woodwork and a precious and welcoming setting take you to another era for while you have your meal. Here you can appreciate high-quality elegant cuisine in a "brassérinomique" (brasserie+gourmet) spirit, as the chef says.

Carpe Diem

At the heart of the Touques medieval village, Carpe Diem is the masterpiece of a young couple. Fanny Mordelle, Master Sommelier trained by the greatest chefs of La Tour d'Argent, L'Arpège, Lucas Carton and Le Saquana restaurants; and Julien Bichot, chef of Deauville that has been working for Dauphin in Breuil-en-Auge, Le Bréard in Honfleur, then in Paris with Robuchon, at Le Pavillon Ledoyen and La Tour d'Argent. Their natural and high-quality cuisine combines tradition and modernity around a refined presentation worthy of a starred restaurant. Highly recommended! Enjoy tasty dishes like duck pâté in a pastry crust, foie gras with pickle sorbet and, to top it off, choux buns filled with vanilla-tonka bean mascarpone cream smothered in chocolate-caramel beurre sauce.

Le 1899

Le 1899 is found in an exceptional green setting: the Manoirs de Tourgéville. The cosy setting includes large fireplaces, thick curtains made of red velvet and nice woodwork. In the sunny days, you can eat outside, surrounded by a flowered garden. In the bistro-nomique menu made by chef Emmanuel Andrieu, you can find carefully cooked seasonal products, such as fresh pollack en casserole with white quinoa from Normandy. The lounge bar is perfect to share an appetizer in the sunny terrace or next to the fireplace in winter.

Le Capucine

Le Capucine overlooks the sea from Les Jardins de Coppélia wonderful hotel. It reveals a natural, innovative and refined cuisine.

Cider from the neighbouring orchards, farm vegetables and cheese, freshly caught fish... Chef Damien Frémont, awarded the first prize at the Escoffier contest 2012, studied in France and abroad. He proposes a local gastronomic cuisine whose keywords are organic, ethical, and healthy products. Products are enhanced in the effervescent kitchens opening to a relaxing setting with contemporary-coloured interiors. Enjoy a drink* and tapas, comfortably sitting in the sofa next to the monumental fireplace or have lunch on the terrace surrounded by apple trees.

Enjoy a seafood platter

With 600 km of coasts, Normandy draws part of its gastronomic identity from the sea. In summer, fishermen stock up on mussels, sole, lobsters and mackerel before harvesting the traditional scallops in winter. Directly available in the local markets, they are even better cooked by our chefs. Saint-Vaast oysters, lobsters, prawns and whelks are all prepared with love to make up flavoursome dishes or platters. From Villers-sur-Mer to Deauville and Trouville-sur-Mer, you can enjoy fish and seafood on a terrace, feet in the sand or in front of the fishing port. Here is our selection of gastronomic places to taste near the stall of an oyster seller or in an unusual place.

Augusto Chez Laurent

Laurent takes his guests offshore for every meal. Inside, a boat-cabin design and a fascinating fish tank. Fished on the western coast of the English Channel, there is always at least a dozen of Augusto's lobsters in the hall, and up to 40 in summer!

On the menu, the Augusto-style lobster is constant while the rest of the menu changes four times a year according to the seasonal products.

ON THE MARKET STANDS

Get a brasserie

Offering a terrace, tables or an old-style bar, these destinations have become real institutions in the Côte Fleurie! Given that their operating principle is to offer a non-stop service all-day-long most of the time, visitors love spending time there with no constraints. The place is warmly decorated, comfortable and unique. They evoke habits and memories of past times in good company and have a simple menu that promotes local products. Choose: a tasty Sole meunière, pan-fried scallops or mussels-chips with crème fraîche?

THE INSTITUTIONS

Chez Miocque

The legendary Chez Miocque has preserved the charm of ancient brasseries: red-leather booth seats, small tables, photo memories of the many lively nights and a terrace covered with a red-and-white striped blind. A wonderful bar completes this timeless decoration. The cuisine is fresh and tasty. The highlights include home-made local dishes like the slow-cooked veal of Père Jacques, meunière sole, oysters and seafood.

Le Drakkar

Le Drakkar, a meaningful name that recalls the Viking influence in Normandy. Iconic restaurant in Deauville, this chic bistro with a cosy steak-house setting offers a revisited meat and fish cuisine.

A good selection of vintage wines. Its large terrace attracts many guests who have lunch or dinner, or just a drink* here.

Le Mermoz

It's the utmost brasserie of Villers-sur-mer, a few steps away from the seaside boardwalk. The interior design pays tribute to the great French aviator Jean Mermoz, a legendary figure of the Aéropostale, nicknamed the "Archangel". The chef cooks local products: Norman meat, vegetables from Pennedepie, coffee from an artisan coffee-roasting company of the Pays d'Auge... It's also the best spot to see the sunset or listen to the bands performing during the Sable Show festival!

Bistrot Les 4 chats

A must in Trouville-sur-Mer for over 30 years now, the Bistrot Les 4 Chats is the favourite address of artists in residence on the Côte Fleurie. Here you can find traditional dishes based on local products and the chef's inspiration with music playing in the background, in the kitchen opened to the hall. The interior design was made using second-hand objects dating back to the 1930s and the 1950s. This unconventional atmosphere makes you feel at home. Our suggestion: start (or end) the evening under the famous chandelier of the Bar with the same name, just opposite...

Le Réfectoire: cuisine in a fast and light version!

Les Franciscaines is a new living place dedicated to culture and heritage that contains collections of the museum and the Deauville media library in the same building, and an auditorium where shows, concerts and lectures are organised. Among the open spaces freely accessible to the public, Le Réfectoire and its southern terrace have been designed to meet, share, and relax; it's nice to gather around the large table to taste an original high-quality menu, in full compliance with the seasons and the environment, have a snack with children, share a platter or enjoy a Sunday brunch with friends. It serves a simple, but refined, fast, creative, gourmet, purposeful cuisine on lovely meal trays. Le Réfectoire is also the place where you can discover novels and works of the media library that you can lend or look up if you have a subscription.

IN A LEGENDARY HOTEL

You do not need to book a stay here to discover this place. Enjoy a drink* at the bar of a legendary hotel, with the most refined services and interiors, and get the most of an extraordinary break. Precious delights await you just behind the door.

The 5-star Barrière Le Normandy Hotel, described as the "most beautiful hotel in the world" during its inauguration, has a British-style bar, with a stone fireplace and mahogany chairs, of which Winston Churchill was a regular customer. At the Louis 16th-style bar, admire the woodwork and the pictures that retrace the worldly life of Deauville. It serves a tempting menu with daring cocktails and a choice of wines* selected by Manuel Peyrondet, Best Sommelier of France.

The red colour prevails in the Jacques Garcia-signed decor of the 5-star Barrière Le Royal Hotel bar, blending English club details with the Empire splendour. A stunning setting for a bar serving champagne* and a selection of rums* under a high ceiling and princely chandeliers. Trendy and sophisticated dishes beautifully fit the decor.

The finest Calvados* collection is found in the 4-star Hôtel du Golf Barrière. With a cosy and luxurious atmosphere made of red and brown tones at Le Green bar, it's the perfect place to share creative pastries or tapas with a view on the flowered trees and the mounted tiles about the history of Deauville under the Second Empire and the Belle Epoque. On sunny days, choose a spot on the panoramic terrace with a wide view on the English Channel.

BITE INTO AN APPLE

In Normandy, apples are used in all forms possible, including for making several golden spirits that are the envy of the whole world. Cider*, Calvados* and Pommeau* have some common points in their fabrication process but all hold some secrets that you can discover by visiting the territory's estates and distilleries, where apples are harvested, pressed, and brewed.

The Route du Cidre* (Cider Route) is a 40-km tourist itinerary passing by the nicest estates, the most beautiful castles, and the cutest villages. Throughout this journey, you'll find about fifteen producers who will let you taste the best apple-based spirits in their cellar.

TASTE NORMAN CHEESE

Norman cheese, an internationally renowned gastronomic heritage, makes this territory the hotspot of French gastronomy. Norman AOP cheeses are four. You shouldn't miss tasting them if you visit the region. The most emblematic cheeses are produced since 1910 at the heart of the Pays d'Auge: Camembert, the most famous; Livarot, also known as "le Colonel" with five thin strips of dry reeds; Pont-l'Évêque, unique squared cheese covered with a yellowish or orangey rind; and the Neufchâtel, with a very particular heart shape.

The secrets of smooth soft cheese are Norman cows pasturing for months and producing a creamy milk, and a slow and meticulous maturing process. Succumb to AOP cheese such as Norman butter on a slightly warm crunchy slice of bread, accompanied by a glass of cider*.

Mydeli.store

The Mydeli.store, new destination of the Dubois & Du Vin restaurant of Touques, promises gourmet, local and eco-friendly dishes. The principle of the team: fast and GOOD "home-made" cuisine. On the plates, or better in entirely recyclable and sustainable glass jars preserving flavours, you'll find tasty locally sourced seasonal products; hot or cold creative sandwiches made with original buns. Feel more like having a dessert? Desserts and ice creams are prepared here too. They can be booked online, delivered at home, or enjoyed here. And do not forget about the selection of delicacies.

Healthy and responsible: learn about the cuisine of the Eco-domaine de Bouquetot

In the heart of nature, in an Eco-domaine with tree houses and wonderful Norman buildings dating back to the 18th century, come and cook biodynamically cultivated seasonal vegetables and get to know spirulina. Through the cooking courses of the Eco-domaine, you'll learn how to manage and adopt raw cuisine, successfully make pie bases (like a pastry chef) and even just cook flavoury, healthy and environment respectful dishes

The Bouquetôt estate, owned by Communauté de Communes Cœur Côte Fleurie, is a 68-ha large former breeding farm that bears evidence to the rural life and the Pays d'Auge heritage of the 17th and 18th centuries. The seven buildings, typical of the traditional half-timbering architecture, are scattered in a tree-filled meadow.

The Eco-domaine is since 2009 a benchmark in the innovative development of natural resources. The objective is enhancing lands and farms setting up ecological, economic and pedagogical activities. A permaculture-based organic market garden, a bakehouse, an organic cattle farm, tree houses, a vermiculture and a spirulina production area are found here... A wide range of teaching activities are organized around spirulina cultivation, permaculture, edible plants, but also walking tours in nature and a paper chase.

A local taste

Giving priority to local consumption means reducing our carbon footprint, but also supporting local craftsmen believing in a rich territory and their gourmet creativity. Most of them are found in their production site or in the markets.

THE DEAUVILLE COLLECTION: TEMPTING SOUVENIRS

Tasty Deauville beach umbrellas

Eric Dufay has focused all his expertise and attachment to Normandy on a unique and delicious creation: the beach umbrellas of Deauville. Crunchy cookies combining the flavours of the Pays d'Auge such as apple, caramel and beurre salé; the beach umbrellas of Deauville are carefully packed in an exceptional gift pack ready to be shared, savoured or eaten secretly. <http://www.eric-dufay.com/>

Deauville apple juice

The Ferme de Billy situated in Rots extracts the Deauville juice. Apple juice, with the golden colour of the summer sun, both sweet and slightly sour, is the perfect beverage to drink on the beach under a colourful beach umbrella.

Le Pompon de Deauville

The Pompon, best French chocolate speciality in 2014, is a sailor cap-shaped sweet with a 70% black chocolate fine coating filled with slightly runny caramel beurre salé.

Crazy for delicatessen and gourmet shops

INSPIRING DESTINATIONS

These nice hybrid shops, a combination of a delicatessen, a restaurant and, sometimes, a concept-store, are inspiring places for those who love good food. An accurate choice, the precious suggestions of cooking enthusiasts, dishes to enjoy here or to take away. You'll undoubtedly become a regular customer!

Casa Rina

Visit this gold and black delicatessen shop and succumb to some of the 500 Italian products selected by Domenico, from Apulia, and his wife, who share the Italian art of living. They commit to offer the best products among starters, desserts, including a home-made version of the famous tiramisù, cold meats, hot dishes, cheese, and a selection of wines* from different regions. In winter, do not forget to order the best fresh truffle in the world: the white truffle from Alba!

11 place Morny
14800 Deauville - 02 31 81 40 77

Casa Roméo

Casa Romeo is much more than an Italian delicatessen. Italian flavours tickle your nose when you are inside, instilling in you the desire to stay and taste one of their specialities. Discover cold meats, cheese, starters, bruschette, accompanied by a Sicilian wine* or specialities such as giganti - a sort of stuffed cannelloni - or arancini, stuffed deep fried risotto balls. To enjoy on-site or take home (as a platter of starters). Have a nice trip!

50 rue Gambetta
14800 Deauville - 02 31 98 27 44

Zlow

Zlow is, first of all, a coffee-shop with an ironic name coming from the contraction between zero waste and slow life): here, you can enjoy a cup of tea or order a picnic basket for breakfast, an afternoon snack or an aperitif. Of course, just good organic products! You can also find out vintage tableware or stock up on environmentally friendly products. It's also a place of sharing around workshops to learn about "zero waste cooking", for example. Finally, it is an association of people fighting private garden wasting that collect fruits and vegetables to transform and distribute them in the shop.

Les Caves Morny

An amazing cellar and pantry where the owner, Fabien Savéant, gives suggestions and good tips to choose AOP Pays d'Auge ciders* and Calvados*, but also over 300 wine* references including the best vintage wines, arranges rums* and spirits*. To accompany a good wine*, what is better than a local cheese platter selected by the Caves Morny? The Winedrive* is a good idea to ensure the delivery of wines* and other spirits* in Deauville (conditions on the website); the fine delicatessen includes nice tempting products and offers themed tastings to discover the world of wine: territory, grape varieties, labels...

MB Fromagerie

More than 1,200 cheeses are produced in France, and many of them are Norman such as the famous Camembert, Pont L'Évêque, Livarot and Neufchâtel that you'll find over the whole length of this nice shop.

MB Fromagerie offers a wide selection of emblematic French cheese and excellent cheeses from neighbouring countries. Cheeses, mostly made in farms with raw milk, are selected among the best producers by a cheese-maker awarded Meilleur Ouvrier de France.

Port-Deauville Market

A convivial place, situated in front of the marina for your grocery shopping. You do not need to rush to the city centre to buy croissants, a bottle of oil or a mobile phone cable if you stay on a sailing boat or spend a nice time at the Port-Deauville marina! Bread is provided by the "la Parisienne" bakery, ice creams by Martine Lambert, fruits and vegetables by MB Primeurs. The grocer's also has a kosher shelf and serves coffee you can enjoy on the terrace or take away.

Nature et Gourmandise

Nature et Gourmandise, a name that says it all for this charming pink sweet shop: Nature means that you'll find mostly organic locally sourced products in a decor made with wooden apple boxes. Gourmandise means that everything is tempting here: jams, biscuits, tergoule... You may also count on Linda's precious suggestions, her anecdotes, and an unrivalled warmth.

Dupont avec un Thé

20 place Morny
14800 Deauville - 02 31 88 20 79
www.dupontavecunthe.fr

The Dupont avec un thé House was founded by René and Louise Dupont in Dives-sur-Mer in 1912. Nowadays, Jean-Pierre Etievre, Meilleur Ouvrier de France 1990, runs this institution with passion. Just as talented in pastry cooking as in chocolate making, the Dupont team makes unconventional chocolates. The unmissable La Toque d'Or - a fine equestrian helmet-shaped dark chocolate with gold flakes, filled with Calvados*-soaked grapes coated with soft caramel -, especially made for Deauville, was awarded Meilleure Spécialité Chocolatée de France. Succumb to the delicacy of pastries, finely decorated as precious jewels, to take away or enjoy for the afternoon tea. At lunchtime, enjoy a selection of savoury dishes on the terrace.

The history of the Dupont avec un thé House is found in the book titled "Itinéraires gourmands Dupont avec un thé" (Editions Orep). Also available at Deauville Tourisme.

ICE CREAM MAKERS

Maison Florin

Maison Florin still turns heads with smooth home-made "made in Normandy" ice creams, refined creations prepared by a Norman ice cream maker. Made with high-quality, natural, and local ingredients, ice creams are served in cones, pots (with as many different flavours you want), or in a take-away bowl. You'll love the Brussels or Liège waffles, sweet crêpes, ice-cream macarons, ice cream sundaes on demand, Italian hot chocolates and much more... You're on holiday, right?

Breton Traiteur, situé en plein cœur de Deauville est une institution qui fait partie du patrimoine

Depuis plus de 4 générations, Breton traiteur et son équipe perpétuent les valeurs de son fondateur : la passion du métier, la recherche de l'excellence et le partage du savoir-faire.

Christophe et Nadia Breton sont à la tête de cet établissement. Christophe a commencé sa carrière auprès de Georges Blanc et Alain Ducasse à Singapour et New York, mais aussi à Paris, Vonnas et bien d'autres lieux des plus prestigieux. Christophe privilégie les produits frais, du terroir, de saison et réinvente un univers de goût et explore de nouvelles saveurs.

Breton Traiteur vous accompagne dans tous vos événements, qu'ils soient familiaux ou d'entreprises, nous pouvons prendre en charge la totalité de votre mise en scène et vous assurer des moments privilégiés inoubliables.

La pérennité de cette institution repose sur des valeurs incontournables : le choix des produits, le respect des clients et la transmission du savoir-faire.
